Luxe Life

An elegant and charming city, Savannah, Ga., embodies the hospitality and poise of the Old South. If you're looking for a romantic retreat or a girlfriends' getaway, you have come to the right place. Here you can choose to meander through the picturesque squares in the Historic District, enjoy world-class dining, shopping and entertainment, bask in the beauty of Forsyth Park with its oak trees and Spanish moss, stroll down River Street, a cobblestone road along the Savannah River, or attend a lively festival or performance. Along the way you'll discover some of the beautiful spots seen in movies like Forrest Gump or Something to Talk About.

In the heart of this historic city sits Luxury Living Savannah, a collection of homes restored to their original original splendor.

Featuring the bold, rich colors and intricate architecture of colonial Savannah, each home boasts modern amenities and all the creature comforts you'll ever want, including an elevator. The charm of the Luxury Living Collection is the ideal backdrop for a truly memorable vacation or special event.

Each home boasts its own unique and distinctive character so you have a wide selection from which to choose. The Wedding Cake Mansion, for example, earned its name because of the white bay window featuring stained glass designs and ornamental ironwork. This award-winning mansion, which has undergone a $3 million dollar renovation and has earned historical certification, is located on Monterey Square, made famous by the movie Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil.
